Frequently Asked Questions

- We have players on our Copa Bruce team who moonlight for a Fourth Division team. They were bumped up to the Third Division for the spring session through an unearned promotion. Are those moonlighting players still eligible for the Copa Bruce?

Promotion & relegation are covered by Article II.H of the Bylaws of the Central Virginia Soccer Association. The terms “earned” and “unearned” appear neither in that specific article nor anywhere else in the Bylaws of the Central Virginia Soccer Association or the Constitution of the Central Virginia Soccer Association. The moonlighting players will need to make a choice, as the rule is very simple & clear.

- We're a Veterans team and usually play 9-a-side. Can exceptions be made, or special privileges be given, regarding adding players so we can beef up our roster?

No. Veterans and Women's teams are encouraged to carry more players if they choose to compete in the CVSA Cup or Copa Bruce.

- My team won the Fifth Division in the fall, and we're entered in the Copa Bruce. Will our promotion to the Fourth Division eliminate us from the Copa Bruce?

No. Teams are entered into the respective cups based on their Fall '25 alignment. Any Copa Bruce teams still alive for the spring session will not be promoted to the Third Division or above, unless they request the promotion. Of course, in this instance, such a promotion would eliminate them from the Copa Bruce.

- We're a lower division team that wants to find loopholes to sneak career Premier & First Division players into the Copa Bruce, as, for us, nothing is more fun than beating the hell out of a Seventh Division team by two touchdowns, round-after-round. Do you know of any loopholes we can exploit?

We think we've closed all of the loopholes to ensure that the Copa Bruce will remain a competitive home for the lower division player. But we know you'll keep trying.

- We need more cups. My team needs to have a cup competition where they'll have at least a 75% chance of success. The current set-up is too tough, and not fair, especially in this age where everyone gets, and deserves, a trophy. When will we be getting a third, or fourth, cup competition?

In the 2024-'25 session, the CVSA awarded 42 championships. If you haven't won one, try harder.
